

The Living Leader Programme

Simple, effective leadership for life...

The Living Leader Programme explores how as a leader you can create an environment where your team works more effectively together, takes on more responsibility, and delivers their best possible work.

It delivers improved bottom line results by challenging thinking, and demonstrates the impacts that some small, but critical behavioural changes can have on your team and results, including:

- Better team engagement and performance
- Improved personal awareness and responsibility
- Increased productivity, service and innovation

The programme demonstrates that a fundamental element of outstanding leadership is the development of others and the support required to empower people to reach their full potential. It examines how we contribute to this as the leader through the choices we make and the things we do.

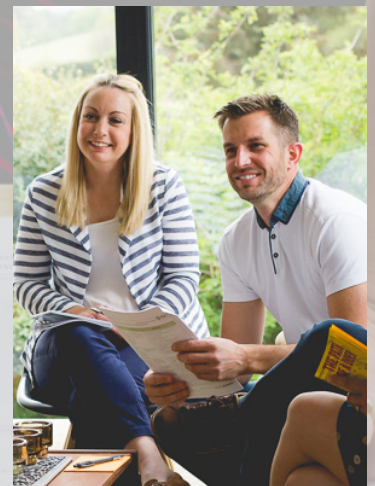

There is a strong focus on communication, responsibility and individual strengths as the foundation for developing empowered working relationships and highly performing teams, and considers how our beliefs about the world shape and influence the results we get.

About the course

Run in small groups of 8-12, the course lasts three days, comprising two consecutive days and a follow-up day 2-3 weeks later, giving you an opportunity to apply your learnings.

Powerful results that make a difference

- ✓ Greater team co-operation and openness - open, supportive and transparent relationships to increase shared responsibility
- ✓ Improved communicating behaviours - clarity of messages reducing misunderstanding, unifying focus and greater trust
- ✓ Improved team support and enhanced performance - greater understanding of the needs and challenges faced by each team member and a willingness to work together
- ✓ Increased service and innovation to create a competitive edge - inspires individual confidence and provides a practical framework to encourage creative thinking and behaviour

What people have said

“The programme is transformational at a personal and a business level. I have seen over a hundred executives go through it, from hardened finance folk to creative marketers, from cynics in engineering to process-ridden legal and HR people. Every single leader that has been through the programme has found it life-changing.”

Group CEO

“Without doubt, the best programme I’ve ever been on. I’m so excited by the potential of what could be achieved.”

“Dave is a truly inspirational coach and mentor, he ensured the connections clicked with me, tested understanding and inspired me to develop myself and others.”
